RICS publication points

These are the items most likely to affect website publication and developer implementation.

- Complaints: RICS-regulated firms must publish a complaints-handling procedure that includes an ADR mechanism approved by RICS and maintain a complaints log. The complaints policy in this pack therefore names a complaints officer, sets acknowledgement and response times, includes ADR escalation and includes a separate complaints log template.
- ADR: confirm the firm's appointed ADR provider before publication. The draft uses CEDR Services Ltd as the RICS default UK consumer ADR provider, with its RICS-published contact details, but this must be confirmed against Pariter's RICS annual return and any existing arrangements.
- RICS logo and designation: the website currently displays an RICS mark. Before go-live, confirm that the RICS logo pack, lock-up, size, colour, clearance and designation wording comply with RICS rules. Regulated firms must use the "Regulated by RICS" designation on business literature.
- Client money: only publish a client money policy or statement that is factually correct. If the firm does not hold client money, publish the no-client-money statement and delete the full handling procedure. If it does hold client money, publish the full procedure and confirm compliance with the RICS Client Money Handling requirements and client money protection scheme obligations.
- Conflicts: RICS requires effective systems for identifying and managing actual, potential and perceived conflicts. The conflicts policy includes checks, records, disclosure, informed consent and refusal of instructions where the conflict cannot be managed.
